No proposition that was offered by Secretary Needham was considered.

NEW WAYS OF SERVING EGGS.

When the Palate Becomes Tired of the Old Preparations.

There are a good many articles of food which are digested easily, but which lack flavor and the palate easily tires of them. One of these is eggs, and the difficulty can be overcome by serving them with some decided flavor. Tomato sauce, anchovy toast, stewed celery, and many other things will suggest themselves to the mind of the housekeeper who is seeking to make this easily digested nutritive food acceptable to some member of her family. Sometimes i can be flavored with a sprinkling of cheese, sometimes worked into the diet in some other form as custards. The principle in dealing with the simple foods for invalids or people who have some difficulty in nutrition is to use flavors in different forms with discretion to avoid tiring the taste and yet give the amount of nutrition necessary under cover of different Regenerate Salts.

Smelling salts can be made to last for years if fresh spirits are poured over the balls of salt from time to time, so as to keep up the original strength of the mixture. Many people use spirits of ammonia in this connection, but a still more powerful specific may be found in a combination of this spirit with oil of lavender, in the proportion of two parts of the former to one of the latter. In pro-curing the ammonia, however, care must be taken to avoid choosing aromatic spirits of ammonia in error, the water which it contains preventing it from amalgamating with the

GROWTH OF THE TELEPHONE.

Millions of Instruments Are in Use in This Country.

Washington. - Statistics issued at the close of the year 1906 show that there were in use in the United States alone more than 7,000,000 telephones. while an aggregate of a little more than 6,000,000 miles of wire was used for telephone service.

The telephone industry gives employment to 90,000 persons in the United States, an increase of 171 per cent, in six years, while during the same period the number of stations has increased 239 per cent. and the wire mileage 349 per cent.

There is little doubt that much of this increase is due to the general adoption of the so-called message rate system in place of the flat annual charge formerly in vogue. By making ber of calls the use of the telephone has been widely extended both because of the greater willingness of people to become subscribers under such conditions and because the system gives an incentive to the local telephone companies to give good service and encourage the use of the tele-

How One Woman Has Done Away

A woman who does her own work and yet likes to entertain a good deal has brought order out of chaos and made the work lighter for herself by limiting her dinner to three hot dishes. She serves first iced canteloupe, grape fruit or oysters, according to the season; then meat, potatoes and one vegetable. Salad and dessert are prepared before hand, and so is the coffee. She serves all but the three hot dishes -which, of course, must be brought from the kitchen-from a small serving table at her side, which has two shelves beneath it and an outstanding bracket shelf for the clean and used dishes. The coffee, in a French coffee pot, stands on one of the brackets of the serving table and boils merrily until required.

PLUMS SERVED IN BATTER.

Dessert That Is Especially Popular with Masculine Palates.

Make a batter with two beaten eggs, five tablespoonfuls of flour, rather more than a pint of milk, and a pinch of salt. Remove the stones from a quart of large, ripe plums, crack them, put the kernels inside of the plums again, mix the fruit with two heaping tablespoonfuls of moist sugar and stir it lightly into the batter. Turn it into a buttered pudding dish, and bake in a hot oven until done, about 40 minutes. Sprinkle powdered sugar over the top and serve hot with half a cupful of butter, one cupful of sugar and one wellbeaten egg stirred to a cream and flavored with half a teaspoonful of necarine. This dessert is especially popuar with masculine palates.

Belt for Old Gloves. Every girl finds in her possession ne or more pairs of discarded long gloves. Pretty and durable suede belts can be made from the same by simply ripping up the seam and cutting off the hand. The glove is then the right shape for the belt when opened out and two pieces joined in the center. Line the glove with silk cut on the bias, turn over the edges, and stitch on the machine. Also stitch the back and finish with three gold bosses or flat buttons covered with kid cut from the hands of the gloves. Another way of finishing is to tie the kid in three or four small bows. For the front use a pearl buckle or a small steel one covered with the

Of course, we are all familiar with the use of black velvet as a dust cloth for hats and fine black materials, the fine nap penetrating and carrying away dust without injury where nothing else could, but what virtue there is in crimson velvet, aside from its texture, is hard to guess, but it is possible, of course, that there may be some effect in the dye used.

> Cold-Water Process of Canning. Wash the fruit thoroughly, and in case of rhubarb cut into small pieces, as for pies. If gooseberries are used, top and tail them. Pack into glass jars that have been sterilized and then fill the jars to overflowing with freshly drawn water. Put on the covers and let them stand overnight. By the next morning you will find that the fruit has taken up more or less of the water, and that there is quite a vacuum to be filled. Drain off the water and fill again with fresh cold water to overflowing, letting the water come with sufficient force to drive out any air. Then seal closely and put away for winter use.

> Gooseberry Preserves. For every quart of rough red gooseberries which have been stemmed and ended, take one pound of white sugar, dissolve it in the preserving kettle with enough water to make a thick sirup. Let boil 20 minutes, skimming well; then put in the gooseberries and boil five minutes; then set by until the next day, when boil again until they have a clear look and the sirup is thick. Pour into hot jelly glasses and cover when cool. Milk-Stewed Potatoes.

Into double boiler put three cups of milk, one quart of sliced raw potatoes (measure after slicing), salt and pepper to taste. Keep covered and cook till tender-about an hour. Then beat two eggs, add one cup milk, and taking the boiler from the fire, mix with potatoes, stirring quickly, then set boiler back for few minutes to cook the eggs.

Mint Punch of Ginger Ale. Make a rich lemonade by boiling one quart of water and one cupful of sugar together for five minutes and adding the juice of five lemons, the grated rind of one, when the sirup is cool. Put into the punch bowl with a lump of ice in the center and add one quart of ginger ale. Bruise the leaves and stems of half a dozen sprigs of mint and add to the punch a quarter of an hour before serving. Iron Rust on White Goods. To remove iron rust from white goods which have been spotted by the wash kettle rub a cut lemon over the spots to wet them fully with the juice. Then rub on salt and hang them out in the sun to dry. If the spot is not removed by the first application repeat the process.

Bollector Gets a Silver Coin Stamped

103 Years Ago.

Philadelphia. - A single United States silver dollar of the coinage of 1804 brought $3,600 here the other day at the sale of the collection of the late M. A. Stickney, the best price during the sale except $6,200, which a dealer paid for a famous Brasher's New York doubloon, the face value of which is

There are but six specimens of the 1804 dollar known to be extant, one of which is now at the mint in this 'city. Stickney received the rare coin on May 9, 1843, from the local mint in exchange for other coin.

It weighs a trifle less than 415 grains, and, having been kept in a chamoise bag, it is extremely fine and brilliant.

Before it changed hands again today at the end of 64 years, dealers and collectors vied with one another in raising its value with their spirited bidding. Mr. Chapman, who finally carried it off, opened the bidding with $1,000. His competitors run the price up in jumps of $250 at a time, until the price had soared to $3,000. Then Mr. Chapman's bid of $3,600 got the treasure.

Equally interesting was the bidding for an 1815 United States half eagle, which was finally captured by S. H. Chapman for $2,000. This coin is of great rarity, there being only six ex-

Without waiting to change his clothes, Hatfield came to Washington from the harvest field, obtained another license and, hurrying back home, secured a dergyman. THE BAPTIST VONVEN-TION.

The National Baptist Convention convened in this city last week and ended Monday. There were some manly men in that body who reflected credit upon the colored race. There were others who belonged too that class known as trimmers and apologists, who are impediments to the colored race.

When the president of the convention threatened to resign, a number of the delegates weakened which forced a compromised resolution. It was not because the sentiment of the convention and the entire audience were with the present administration, but because the delegates were influenced by the president's bluff. Zion Methodist Epis- instant, at Irvng's Hall, the 159th anniversary of the birthday of Prince Hall, the founder of Masonry for colored men in merica.

The affair, which took the form of a stag entertainment this year, attracted a creditable portion of the Lodges' members who had as their guests the following friends and well-wishers of this and other jurisdictions: Brothers R. W. Tyler, auditor for the navy; Maj. C. W. Fillmore, both of Ohio; and Gr. M. Grimshaw, Dep. Gr. M. Weatherless,

His suggestion that the Lodge inaugurate the annual practice of forwarding funds for a floral tribute to be placed on Prince Hall's grave each Decoration Day, was heartily approved, and no doubt will be adopted. Brother F. J. Cardozo, P. M., was next called on, and he counseled the cultivation of a healthier feeling of Lodge pride and a closer attention to the Masonic work.

Brother J. A. Johnson, the Nestor of the Lodges Past Masters, paid a glowing tribute to Prince Hall's noble character and life as a liberty-loving man. The result of a carefully compiled research into the genesis of Masonry was then presented by Brother W. M. Mc-Cary, P.M., who closed with a brilliant poetacil effort, the gem of the evening. In response to request, Brother R. W. Tyler expressed in fitting terms his pleasure at being able to be present, and defined briefly but eloquently what he considered should be the proper attitude of Masons to each other. Other very enjoyable remarks were contributed by Brothers Fillmore, Weatherless, Davis, Nalle, Wilder and Grimshaw.

Brother William H. Haynes was chairman of the committee on entertainment, and extended to the guests a hearty and generous welcome.

Refreshments were served at the close of the speeches, and the evening closed with the singing of "God be with you till we meet again" by the company.

This is the same problem at which all people have worked, and at which the Anglo-Saxon race must continue to work. So the Negro finds himself at a low point in the sale of life, and true to the voice of the human soul he wants to go up higher, not that he may go into the society of other races, but that he may be fit to associate with himself. In the supreme struggle the politician will reach no hand out to him, the social spirit will give no help, the industrial spirit will lend no assistance, but the God-spirit should speak to him a helping word and reach out to him a helping hand. This race issue will test the moral quality of this nation, and if at finds no settlement the failure will be a moral failure and show the point at which our civilization broke down the lack of moral strength."

Dr. Shepard announced that he will oon establish in North Carolina a Bible school where young Negroes may be trained to do religious work.

musician of note himself, is president of the company. He says:

"Several of the best road shows have already been booked, among which are Georgia Minstarels, etc. The greater part of the season, however, will be filled with a stock company composed of the specialty performers from the North. This company will play bright, tuneful comedies of a high order. To this end the rights have been obtained to some of the plays which have been so successfully given by the Pekin Stock Company at Mr. Mott's Theatre in Chicago. One of the plays now under rehearsal is 'The Two African Princes,' by J. Ed. Green, the colored playwright, now known as the 'Black Belasco."

"The plays will be staged with a fine cast, special scenery, new costumes, and the latest music, some of which has been especially written for these productions.

"Negotiations have been entered intowith other big shows, such as Cole and Johnson, Ernest Hogan, Williams and Walker, ets., and it is safe to say that: these and other big productions not seem in New Orleans before will be here at the Elysium this season.

"No expense is being spared to make a complete success of this venture," adds Professor Nickerson. "Our intention is to give to the public a playhouse where entertainment and enjoyment of a high order will always be found and good order will be strictly maintained.

"Another thing which the corporation proposes launching is a park for colored people, modeled after the latest improvements, where colored people can find enjoyment of a suitable and respectable nature. No site as yet has been selected."

SERVING THE FOWL

TWO DELICIOUS WAYS OF PRE-PARING CHICKEN.

When Pressed It Makes as Fine a Dish as Could Be Desired-Steamed with Rice and Mushrooms.

Pressed Chicken.-Cover a young fowl, cut in joints, with boiling water, and let simmer until tender, together with a few slices of carrot, half an onion, and a stalk of celery. Remove the skin and bones, and return them with the broth to the fire, and let simmer until reduced to about one cup; strain and set aside. When the flesh is nearly cold, cut into tiny cubes or chop fine; remove the fat from the broth, reheat, and stir the chicken into it, adding salt and pepper and other seasoning as desired. Decorate a mold with slices of hard-boiled eggs; in this pack the hot chicken, cover with a buttered paper bearing a weight, and let stand until cold and set. Serve, sliced thin, with salad.

Steamed Fowl with Rice and Mushrooms.-Truss a fowl for boiling, rub with the cut side of a lemon and lay on slices of salt pork or bacon and steam with an onion and two or three stalks of celery until tender-three hours or longer. Have ready a mound of boiled rice, seasoned with butter and salt, and dispose the fowl upon this. Arrange mushrooms cooked in the usual manner about the rice. Serve with the strained chicken liquor, thickened with flour and enriched with two egg yolks, beaten with a half cup-

Jellied Chicken.-Boil a chicken and let it get cold in the liquor. Skim the liquor from every particle of fat. Remove all the skin and bones from the chicken and cut the meat into pieces of uniform size. Soak a half-cup of gelatin in a half-cup of cold water. Mix with the chicken a dozen stoned olives cut up small and two dozen canned mushrooms, also cut small. Bring the chicken liquor to a boil, add the soaked gelatin and when this is dissolved take from the fire and set aside to cool. When it begins to "Jelly," pour a little of it into a mold wet with cold waterr, put in a layer of the chicken mixture and when this begins to stiffen add more of the jelly and more of the chicken, continuing in this way until the mold is full. Set in the ice chest for 24 hours. When ready to serve wipe off the outside of the mold with a cloth wrung out in hot water and turn the chicken out upon a chilled platter.

Cleaning Rings.

Rings set with precious stones should always be inspected from time to time to ascertain if the gems are at all loose, especially in the case of claw settings. It is also a good plan to wash them periodically in warm soapsuds, to which a few drops of sal volatile have been added, an exception being made, however, in the case of turquoises, which should not be dampened. In every case the claw settings should be cleaned by means of a wisp of blotting paper rolled into the two cups of boiling milk on the beaten form of a shading "stump" and worked volks of three eggs and three tableinto the interstices so as to clear them spoonfuls of sugar. Cook in a double of any accumulation of dirt.

The First-Aid Vallee.

Three-quarters cups of butter and two cups sugar creamed, yolks of ten eggs, two and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one cup milk, one teaspoon of lemon or orange. Bake in steady oven 50 minutes and frost with yellow frosting, made of the yolk of one egg, one tablespoon water and one teaspoon lemon or orange flavoring. Add confectioner's sugar till thick enough to spread.

Bedroom Set in Applique.

Bedroom sets in shadow-work applique are charming, and may be used over white or colored linings, and the effect of these filmy embroideries over highly polished woods must be seen to be appreciated. In laundering this class of work it must be pulled and smoothed into place before it becomes dry.

A cloth should be placed between it and the iron, and the pressing continued until the article is thoroughly

A Picture Hint,

A pretty fancy is the use of shallow boxes in the framing of small prints. Photographic views, carefully colored with Japanese paints, are set in boxes one to one and a half inches deep. Some of the prettiest of these are set in gray wood, the tint of weather exposed shingles. The colorings of the photographs is not difficult to fearn. The amateur photographer will find this a suggestion for utilizing summer vacation "takes" for the recoration of a special room or for charming and inexpensive Xmas gifts.

Combination That Will Be Pronounced Excellent.

Shred finely half a small head of crisp, tender cabbage and a crisp cucumber, an onion, two sweet peppers; exclude the seeds and compartments where seeds rest; a stalk of celery, all shredded and mixed. Use the accompanying mayonnaise: One oap sweet milk, one teaspoon granulated sugar, a dash of cayenne and white pepper; thicken when at boiling point with a heaped tablespoon of corn starch; when cooked, remove from the Add one tablespoon olive oil, one tablespoon good butter, one tablespoonful any favorite salad dressing, and two tablespoons lemon juice or best cider vinegar. Salt to taste. Keep on ice until served. Place a slice of tomato on top of each plate and your mayonnaise over all.

COFFEE FRAPPE IS GOOD.

Necessitates Only a Little Work with the Freezer.

Prepare a pint of strong, black coffee: boil granulated sugar with enough water to dissolve it until it almost strings, add this to the coffee and place the mixture in a freezer. The amount of sugar must vary according to your taste; it should be sweetened to about the same point that you like breakfast coffee; no more. Turn the dasher of the freezer first to right then to the left, alternating the movement and scraping down the mixture from the side of the freezer as it begins to harden. When it looks like rock crystal, that is, semi-transparent and showing little sharp points, heap in glasses and serve immediately with very thin wafers that are not too sweet.

For a Back Porch Shade. A simple and inexpensive shade for the summer porch, or for a window, may be made by using Japanese matting, cut in the required length and bound at each end with a piece of strong cotton goods. To roll the screen up take two pieces of heavy string or cord about three times as long as the matting; tack the end of each string about two inches above the shade and about a foot from the edge; let the string come down behind the matting and up in front of It, and draw through an ordinary matting tack placed just beside the first This simple device will keep the porch cool and serve to darken any specially sunny window in the house. Good matting for this purpose may be bought for 10 to 12 cents a yard.

Rochester Pudding.

Set to boil one cup of canned, shredded pineapple, one cup of water, onehalf cup of sugar. Wet three tablespoonfuls of cornstarch with three tablespoonfuls of cold water. Stir this into the boiling pineapple syrup and boil five minutes. Take from the fire and cool one minute. Beat the whites of three eggs, fairly stiff, and then beat into the boiling mixture for two or three minutes. Pour into a mold and set to cool. Serve cold with boiled custard sauce made as follows: Pour boiler until as thick and smooth as cream. Cool and flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla.

To Wash Greasy Flannels.

The best way to wash greasy flannels is to soak them for half an hour in soapy water. The water should cover the garment and should not be allowed to get cold while the flannels are soaking. Add a good quantity of ammonia to the soapy water and place tions, scissors, a small bottle of brandy a cover over the tub or receptacle and other items of first-aid utility are where the flannels are soaking. Wash contained in a little leather box, the | in a second fresh lather and then rinse

Spice Cookies.

To one cup of sugar add one-half cup of butter, one egg, beaten; onehalf cup of sour milk; one-half teaspoon baking soda; one-half teaspoon baking powder; one-half teaspoon cinnamon; one-half cup chopped raisins; a little nutmeg; one-half cup chopped English walnuts, and two and one-half cups of flour. Roll out thin. Bake

Cheese Wafers.

One cup sugar, three tablespoons shortening, two-thirds cup milk, threefourths cup grated cheese, one egg. Flour to roll (about two cups, but flour differs); one teaspoon baking powder. Roll very thin and bake in quite a quick oven. Watch carefully as they burn easily. Nice for lunches.

Delicious Junket.

To make junket, heat half a pint of new milk to 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Add a grating of nutmeg and a quarter of a junket tablet dissolved in a tablespoonful of water. Mix and turn at once into a little cup. Allow it to "set" and then place in a cold place. Serve with a little cream.

Grape Juice Punch.

Make a pint of strong lemonade, sweetening with boiled sugar-and-water syrup. When cold add a quart of bottled grape juice and pour over a block of ice in a bowl; add bits of sliced orange, lemon and pineapple-Harper's Bazar.

Bacon Rarebit. Take one pound of good American cheese, wet it with a cupful of ale put it in the pan over the fire, melt and work smooth and creamy by constant stirring. Add a generous dash of cayenne and pour over hot toast and on the top of each piece lay a thin crisp slice of bacon.

SOME CORN RECIPES

FOR THOSE WHO ARE FOND OF

A nice way to cook tender corn is in milk. In this case husk the corn and drop into the boiling milk. Cook just five minutes from the time it begins to boil. Keep covered closely while cooking and serve as soon as done. Where there is a large family to be provided with corn, it is wiser to cook fresh ears of corn, medium size, and with a keen-bladed knife score each row of kernels, then scrape out the pulp, leaving the hulls on the cob. To the pulp taken from a dozen ears allow a pint and a half rich milk, four beaten eggs, a teaspoonful salt, a half teaspoonful pepper, and if the corn lacks sweetness two or three tablespoonfuls sugar. Bake in a well-buttered deep earthen dish fer two hours, in a slow,

Corn Fritters.-Cut the kernels from four good-sized ears young corn. Add two beaten eggs, half a teaspoonful salt, a saltspoonful pepper, a cup of flour pressed down and heaped a little, and a cup of cold milk. Have ready a hot frying pan well greased and drop in the batter by spoonfuls. There

Green Corn Omelet.-Score the rows of four large ears of corn and scrape out the pulp. Mix with five well-beaten eggs, whites and yolks together, one tablespoonful cream, half a teaspoonful salt and pepper to season. Heat a frying pan, drop in a tablespoonful butter and grease every portion of the sides and bottom. Pour in the omelet and tilt the pan, sliding a thin-bladed knife under the omelet to prevent its sticking. When nearly cooked on top the stove, set in the oven to finish. Then fold over and turn on to a hot platter.

Broiled Sweet Corn.-Boil the ears of corn two minutes, then drain and dry on a towel. Place on a broiler and toast over glowing coals or under the gas flame until a good brown. Season with salt and send to the table in a

What to Do with Left-Over Corn .-Put over the fire in a shallow basin, adding milk to moisten slightly. Let it just come to a boil, no more, or it will be hopelessly toughened; season with salt, pepper and butter, and serve Damson Cheese.

Stew Damson plums until tender, the skins and stones. To the pulp add half the juice, weigh it, then boil until it is a dry paste. Stir in six ounces of sugar to every pound of fruit and keep stirring until the mixture will leave the sides of the kettle and adhere to the spoon in a solid mass. If it will yield to the finger without sticking when touched it is done. Turn into glasses or china molds. This is fine for meat or game, and many prefer it to currant jelly.

Clean with Gasoline.

Boleros and blouses of velvet and in fact, any small articles fashioned of this material, may be easily cleaned at home by means of gasoline. The greatest care should always be exercised, however, in handling gasoline, owing to its highly inflammable nature and the receptacle containing it should be stored outside if possible, and must be kept tightly corked, while the cleaning operations should be carried on out able and remarkable statue the United States is owned by ar. Lot Flannery, the well known sculptor, whose studio is on B street, west side of the capitol grounds. For many years this ancient production of the sculptor's art has stood immediately opposite the entrance to Mr. Flannery's studio, and has been the subject of inquiry from thousands. Headless, armless, broken and defaced, the statue gives evidence of the wonderful and masterly skill of the sculptors who produced masterpieces of works of art before the time of Christ, for there is undisputed evidence that this statue is the work of ancients.

Many years ago Commodore Boyle, of the United States navy brought the statue from Athens, Greece, where for more than 2,000 years it had escaped the despoiling hand of the barbarian and other invaders of that ancient city. The commodore secured an authentic history of the work of art and valued it as one of the treasures gathered in his travels throughout the world. He kept the statue for several years and then presented it to his brother, Dr. Boyle, one of the men who made White Sulphur Springs, Va., famous as a watering resort for the wealthy people of the United States.

The statue, then unbroken and beautiful, was securely placed over the main entrance to the large hotel which was owned and managed by Dr. Boyle. Having for untold generations originally graced the front of some Greek temple, it now looked down season after season on the modern social gayety of a popular American resort. Dr. Boyle received numerous offers from rich patrons to purchase it, but all of these he declined to consider, as he knew its history and its value.

The statue remained over the hotel entrance until the breaking out of the civil war. A number of union soldiers were encamped near the Springs and the spirit of having a "little fun" occupied a good portion of their camp life, active warfare not having set in. One day a crowd of the soldiers decided to pull down the "lady in scant | nor, he learned how to fight. As he raiment." With a long rope they lassoed the head of the valuable statue and with a strong pull it was toppled over and fell to the hard stone pavement, breaking off the head, arms, a portion of the drapery and otherwise damaging it. Not satisfied with this the soldiers rolled it to the large lawn and set it in position as a target for rifle practice. To this day the once beautiful sculpture shows where the leaden missiles from hundreds of rifles and muskets marred its smooth surface. When the war closed Dr. Boyle had the broken statue boxed and shipped to Washington, where it again became the property of his brother, Commodore Boyle had the broken statue boxed and shipped to Washington where it again became the property of his brother, Commodore Boyle, Mr. Flannery, the sculptor, was on terms of friendship with Commodore Boyle and succeeded in getting possession of the After that he took the law course at | statue and having it removed to the yard which surrounds his studio.

> Word Derivations. "Cow juice" is a slang term for butter in many parts of the United States. But the word "butter" itself almost certainly means something very like that by derivation. It is true that Pliny considered "butyrum" to be a Scythian word, but it seems clear that it was really Greek-from "bous," a cow, and "turos," cheese, and meant literally "cow-cheese." "Buttery," by the way, has nothing to do with butter, in spite of appearances, just as 'pantry" has no connection with pans. The latter is the storing place of bread ("panis"), and the former is the late Latin "botaria," the place of Commissary Blair, official representathe "butts" or casks.

> Gifts from President Roosevelt and King Edward to Mark Celebration of Three Hundredth Appliversary of Establishment.

> Richmond, Va.-October of the present year will be memorable in the history of old Bruton Parish church, in Williamsburg, Va., because of the announcement made a year ago that King Edward of England will present to the church a Bible and President Roosevelt a lectern in commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of the establishment of permanent English civilization with the English church on this continent.

October has been chosen as the most appropriate month of the tercentennial year for the presentation because the general Episcopal convention will be held in this city that month. Dignitaries of the church will journey to the old capital on October 5, when the presentation ceremonies will take place.

The lectern which is to be the gift of President Roosevelt has been completed and accepted. It is the work of J. Stewart Barney, of New York, and is to support the Bible which will be the gift of King Edward. Rising from a symbolic base is the angel of peace, whose upraised hands and folded wings support the desk of the lectern. The figure stands on a globe, with one foot resting on Great Britain and the other on the United States. The globe in turn is supported by the British lion on one side and the American eagle on the other. Between these figures is the coat of arms of the English Washington family.

Each of the three tablets at the base of the lectern bears an inscrip-

This mark of royal esteem is to be presented to Bruton church in view of the fact that Bruton is the official successor of the church in Jamestown, of which until recently nothing was to be seen except the old tower. The old Jamestown church has been completely restored during the present summer, as has also Bruton Parish church.

While the Jamestown church in the course of the years had disappeared altogether, except for the tower, Bruton church remains te-day as it appeared 200 years ago, the recent restoration being confined entirely to the inside of the edifice.

King Edward will be personally rep resented at the presentation ceremonies by the English ambassador to the United States. The president will also attend.

Bruton Parish church is the second oldest in the United States and the oldest in point of continuous use. It was the court church of colonial Virginia from 1699 to the revolution. Here, in silk panoplied pews, worshiped the colonial governors, two of whom lie buried in the aisle of the church. And here, in that part of the church bought and paid for by the Virginia house of burgesses, worshiped Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Henry, Marshall, Mason, Tyler, Bland, Lee and many others.

The present church was built in 1715, during the rectorship of the Rev. tive in Virginia of the Lord Bishop of London and the founder and first president of the College of William and Mary. The work of restoration. which is now completed, leaves un changed the exterior of the church but the interior, which was changed and distorted by architectural and social conditions which no longer exist. has been restored to its ancient form and architecture, the present complet ed church conforming as nearly may be, both inside and outside, to the exact appearance the structure presented 200 years ago. The whole is intended to be transmitted to the following generations as it was planned and used by the founders of the cology.

A FENCE OF GUN BARRELS.

Ancient Government Arms Oranament a Georgetown, Va., Home.

Washington.-Historic old Georgetown, Va., lays claim to the only fence in the world built of gun barrels, and there is little reason to doubt that this claim will go undisputed.

More than half a century ago there lived in Georgetown a lock and gunsmith named Reuben Daw, whose shop was on M street, in the business section. His large shop was packed with all kinds of pistols, guns and knives, which he had bought at different times, and many a trusty firearm bought from him may yet be found in the old homes of Georgetown. These old citizens will say: "I bought this gun from Rube Daw before the war, and she's as good and true as the day I bought it."

There are old citizens who will remember the armory established at Fence Made of Gun Barrels.

Harper's Ferry by the United States. Here was made the first breech loading rifles, but which proved rather tricky and dangerous weapons. Other makes of guns were turned out at the arsenal to take the place of the Hall rifies, and these were called in and stored.

The government decided to dispose of the worthless guns at the armory, and a public auction was held. Reuben Daw, the Georgetown gunsmith, attended the sale and bought a large number of the guns, having them shipped to his home. He sold a few of them and then decided that he would utilize the stock on hand in building a fence around his two houses at the corner of Twenty-eighth and P streets, he then occupied the residence immediately on the northwest corner. Mr. Daw took the barrels from the stocks, and placed in the end of each barrel a forked fancy topping, thus making upright iron and steel pickets about as substantial and attractive as any used in building the fences around the old mansions in Georgetown. He had the posts and other portions of the fence manufactured to order, and with his own hands he did the larger part of the work in putting up his gun-barrel fence, which to-day is in almost perfect condition

On some of the old barrels may yet be seen the sights, but most of them have been broken off by souvenir hunters, as have also been taken away many of the top pieces. The two splendid brick and stone dwellings are occupied by the families of Charles and Edward Daw, sons of the man who built the historic fence.

Grow Trees.

All the forestry in Great Britain that amounts to much is done by the owners or managers of the great esates. But it seemed to be agreed that there was a good deal of land to Scotland that would grow trees and that would grow no other marketable crop. And Mr. Burns expressed his onal opinion that there ought to be a British school of forestry. That looks like a plausible proposition, when taken in connection with the act that Great Britain raises $15,-00,000 worth of merchantable timber and Imports $150,000,000 worth.

OLD TREASURY OFFICIALS WIN SUCCESS IN BANKS.

More Than One Employe of Government's Financial Department Has Entered Some Big Institution and "Made Good."

Washington.-Uncle Sam's financial system must be sound, for the men who hold prominent treasury positions are most sought after material. The department of which Mr. Cortelyou is now the head, has developed into a sort of breeding place for chieftains of the great banks of the country.

From the time a man becomes secretary of the treasury or even gains one of the assistant places, he becomes a marked man on part of the big financial institutions.

Immediately they all want him, and he must be liberally supplied with cash and patriotism to refuse the kind of offers they make. Salaries they extend far outclass the comparatively modest payment that Uncle Sam allows. It is small wonder, therefore, that one by one they succumb and quit Washington for New York, Chicago and other financial centers.

The recent selection of George E. Roberts, director of the mint, to be president of the strong Commercial bank of Chicago, is an instance of this tendency. Perhaps the directors figured that if he were skillful enough to make money for Uncle Sam, he ought to know how to take care of it for them. Hence the election.

Despite his ability, Mr. Roberts might never have come to this preferment but for the prominence that political life gave him. This is a good practical argument for a young man to get into politics, and act honestly in the public service, not for the immediate return, but for the chances it will make for him with big financial interests where a salary of $25,000 is considered very modest.

The man whom Mr. Roberts succeeds made his fame in Washington. He was James H. Eckies, comptroller of the treasury under President Cleveland. He resigned in 1898 to accept the presidency of the Commercial bank, and he held the post to the time of his

Another comptroller of the treasury, Edward S. Lacey, looked to Chicago like the kind of stuff to which financiers are made, and he was attracted from Washington to assume control of the Bankers' National bank. This was 15 years ago, but his services have be come so valuable that to-day he is still in charge, but at a much increased salary over the figure he was paid when he first came from Washington. Frank A. Vanderlip, once a machinist, later a newspaper man, who first came into prominence as the business associate of Lyman Gage, is another example of a United States treasury official taken from the public service because a private corporation needed his work. A place had to be especially created for him in the National City Bank of New York, famous as the institution from which the Standard Oil company handles its banking business. This bank has a capital of $25,000,000, and its deposits are eight times as great, which makes it the leading financial institution of the United States. The office of vice president, formerly merely an honorary title, was developed into a place second only in power to the president for Mr. Vanderlip.

In his change from Uncle Sam to a private corporation as an employer Mr. Vanderlip followed the lead of his old chieftain, Lyman H. Gage, former secretary of the treasury.

Gage, when appointed to the place by President McKinley, was highly rated in Illinois as a financier of first rank, but the remainder of the country while it knew his name, had never ranked him among the giants.

But from the time he took hold of the nation's finance he found himself a much-sought for man, and eventually he capitulated, and took the presidency of the United States Trust company.

The man who came after Mr. Gage in the high office of guardian of the country's cash, Leslie M. Shaw, of lowa, had an experience much similar to that of Mr. Gage.

pleasure. He will be one of the guests of honor, according to the invitation extended to him, and he is preparing an address to be delivered at the tercentennial. Bishop Ingram is a high churchman.

Dr. Montgomery was brought from Tasmania, where he held a bishopric, to become the secretary of the great English religious society for the spreading of gospel teachings throughout the world. He has held the office of secretary for six years and under his direction the organization has increased tremendously. While he was bishop of Tasmania it is said he traveled 180 days a year on horseback visiting his many parishes and looking for the development and extension of the church in miners' camps and new settlements.

PERSIAN TOWER OF SILENCE.

Place Where Dead Are Laid Rarely Seen by White Man.

London.-The accompanying picture is made from a photograph taken on the flat roof of a Parsi "Tower of Silence" in central Persia, where the Parsis dispose of their dead. It is very rarely that a white man has the opportunity of seeing the interior of a tower of silence, indeed, once it is dedicated, not even a living Parsi may enter.

The tower is built of mud upon a rocky hill, and whitened inside and out with "gatch," a sort of native lime, much used in all Persian buildings. The doorway is built half way up the massive wall. It is mad single block of native granite, turning on a pivot, and is only about four feet by three and a half feet. The tower shown here was finished and dedicated in April, but the doorway has since been destroyed by the Mohammedans, who did considerable damage to the tower itself as well. Therefore, before it can be used for burial it must be ceremoniously cleansed and rededicated.

The interior is paved with granite slabs, on which the bodies of the dead are laid. The two outer circles consist of 86 slabs, and there are five gircles with narrow footways in between each circle. The inner circle has smaller slabs for children, numbering 45.

Bernard Brown was tried in the Police Court Tuesday, charged with cruelty to animals. The humane officer testified to the condition of the horse, and he was the only witness, and four colored citizens testified that the horse was not lame and was in good condition. This testimony did not convince the judge, who directed the owner of the horse to bring the horse to court, which was done. The judge adjourned court and inspected the horse himself, which convinced him that the four colored citizens told the truth. The man was discharged. Attorney Chase represented the defendant,
